Accessing this website implies acceptance of the following terms and conditions.

GENERAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS

The general contents, terms and conditions, solutions, products and services shown in this page are devised, and aimed at those persons, companies, organizations and institutions that reside in territories both within and outside Spain, independent of the physical presence of CAE in those territories or countries.

Access to this website is the sole and exclusive responsibility of each individual user. Access to this website does not imply the formalization of any type of professional relationship otherwise between CAE and the user.

Access to and navigation within this website implies the knowledge and partial or total acceptance of all of the legal terms, conditions and terms of use contained herein. Updates, editions or modifications to information:

The information that appears in this website is current as of the date of the most recent update. CAE reserves the right to update, modify or eliminate any information on this website, as well as limit access, whether temporary or otherwise.

CAE reserves the right to make any necessary changes and modifications at any time and without previous notice.

CAE reserves the right to unilaterally modify the conditions and terms of use of this website. The modifications to the conditions of use will be immediately applicable as of the moment of the upload to the website.

GENERAL CONTENTS OF THE WEBSITE

CAE is not responsible for those contents, commercial activities, products and services of the web, including those which may be visualized through direct or indirect links via the web. The presence of links in CAE’s website, unless expressly manifested to the contrary, is merely for informative purposes and in no case implies proposition, invitation or recommendation. These links do not represent any type of relation between CAE and the individuals, companies, organizations and institutions that own the links or with those that may be accessed through these links.

CAE reserves the right to unilaterally remove the links that appear in this web for any reason and without previous notice.

CAE strives to avoid any error in the contents that may appear in this website. CAE is neither liable nor responsible for consequences that may arise from errors that may appear in the contents provided by third parties.

CAE makes a maximum effort to maintain coherence between the website and physical documents or printed materials associated with the services provided, but does not assume any responsibility for discrepancies that may exist between these and electronic versions published in this page. In case of discrepancy between printed versions and those published in the website, the printed versions will prevail.

CAE does not assume responsibility for the contents of any forum or debate in cyberspace (chatroom), bulletins or any type of transmission that may be linked to this page and will cooperate, if required by judicial order or the pertinent authorities, in the identification of persons responsible for content that contravenes the law.

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY AND COPYRIGHT

Access to and navigation within this website implies the acceptance and acknowledgement of the associated legal notices, conditions and terms of use.

CAE makes a maximum effort to ensure that navigation takes place under optimum conditions and to avoid any type of damages that could arise during the navigation.

This website has been designed to support the most common browsers used worldwide, principally Internet Explorer version 7.0 and earlier versions.

CAE is not responsible for damages of any nature that may be caused to visitors of this website due to the use of other browsers or different versions from the one for which it has been designed.

CAE neither assumes responsibility nor guarantees uninterrupted or error-free access to this website. Neither does CAE assume responsibility nor guarantee that the contents or software accessible through this page are free of error or harm. Under no circumstances will CAE be responsible for losses, damages, or any type of harm that may arise through access to and use of this website, including but not limited to that caused to computer systems or third parties provoked by the introduction of virus.

CAE is not responsible for damages that may be caused to the users or access providers due to the inappropriate use of this website. In particular, it is not liable in any way for collapses, interruptions, inaccessibility or defects of telecommunications.

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY AND COPYRIGHT

This website and its contents, in whole and in part, are protected by Intellectual Property laws. They shall not be subject to exploitation, reproduction, distribution, modification, public communication, cession or transformation. Access to this page does not grant the visitors ownership of the intellectual property rights over the contents, whether in whole or in part.

The contents of this website associated to solutions, services and their characteristics may only be downloaded by the visitor for personal and non-commercial use, without any right to exploit, reproduce, distribute, modify, communicate publicly, cede, transform, or use the contents of this website for public or commercial purposes.

CAE neither transfers nor cedes the ownership of content nor software to the visitors of this website.

CAE retains all industrial and intellectual property rights over associated content and software. The transfer of this website's software or contents for the purpose of analysis and study, decompilation, translation of the original code version or its language to another code or language to imitate its design, or to databases or content bases is strictly prohibited.

CAE reserves the right to exercise pertinent judicial actions against any visitor, whether a natural or legal person, that infringes the intellectual and industrial property rights of this website.

NOTE: The commercial names, brands, company logo and logos associated with solutions, products and services contained in this website are protected by local and international copyright and intellectual property laws.
